My office is located right next to our shipping station, and the sound of boxes being taped drove me nuts - until I found this site! ♥ Though it might not be calming to others, I love setting up Irish Coast in a way that it makes it sound like I'm stranded at sea during a storm with my boat being pushed by the waves, threatening to knock me off. . Distant Thunder definitely contributes to ...

@ Jim: Generally during the summer, the waves are smaller on the North Shore, which includes Hanalei Bay. This makes it great for the kids. However, surf swells can come at any time, so it is a good idea to check daily ocean conditions or ask a lifeguard (there are two along Hanalei Bay). @ Ruth: The waves will be smaller in June.

by David Pascoe, marine surveyor. Tens of thousands of boats of all types and sizes sink every year, most of them at their dock. The exact number is not known because there is no agency that keeps statistics. But just ask any marine insurance company and they will tell you that the number is far too high. In fact, sinking is the number one cause of major marine losses, and one of the primary ...
